Board Votes Continued Support For Drug Program

Trustees of the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District have voted to continue supporting the Youth Crisis-Information Project, formerly called Project Aquarius.

The board voted Monday night, June 4, to contribute $10,000 to the project in 1973-74, that amount being the same as the school district's 1972-73 funding. As before, a portion of the contribution will be in cash, with the remainder representing the salary of a school employee assigned to work with the project staff. The project operates under a joint powers agreement involving local school districts, cities, Monterey County and other agencies.

The project's purpose, explained Director Larry Burghardt, is to provide prevention, education and treatment services in the areas of drug abuse and related problems.

He told the board that the National Institute of Mental Health has awarded the project a $253,000 three-year grant to expand treatment capabilities, but that the grant was in part dependent upon continued support of the project by local agencies. In the coming year, local contributions from schools may be lowered, he said, although by the end of the three year period these contributions might be raised beyond their present level.

At the same board meeting, trustees heard a report on successes of the Fort Ord Community Schools Program during the past two years. Lt. Col. John Kirk, chairman of Fort Ord Youth Activities Programs, told the board that since the programs were reorganized in 1971, participation by young people has tripled. Programs on the post center around neighborhood schools and are based on cooperative efforts of military and school officials and a network of area community councils. Trustees voted to present Kirk with a resolution praising his role in improving youth activities programs on the post.

Board members were also informed that a two-year-old pilot project at Ord Terrace Elementary School in Seaside is being dripped. According to an evaluation by district administrators, tests show that children in all but grade five who were involved in the Institute for Multi-level Learning International (IMLI) achieved poorer reading results than children involved in more conventional reading instruction. Some materials used in the IMLI program will continue to be used to supplement reading instruction at the school. The pilot project had been underway for two years at Ord Terrace.

Trustees authorized a call for bids on four new buses to replace part of the district's bus fleet. One 79 passenger model will be purchased outright, with three smaller buses to be leased.

Tour Raised $5,461.56

Friday, June 1st at the Carmel Holiday Inn, Mrs. Robert Henny, chairman of the 20th annual Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services House and Garden Tour, presented $5,461.56, the proceeds of

Opening Of San Diego Federal S & L Unique

OPENING CEREMONY - Michael G. Rombold, left, manager of new Monterey office of San Diego Federal Savings and Loan Association, and Robert Ross, president of Monterey History and Art Association, took part in unusual dedication ceremony at new facility on June 7. Horseshoe originally placed at site in 1909 to reinforce bank vault wall was set into wall of San Diego Federal's vault as constant reminder of heritage of Monterey.

The past was present at the dedication, June 7, of Monterey's newest financial institution, San Diego Federal Savings and Loan Association.

As a constant reminder of the heritage of Monterey, the savings and loan association placed an historical horseshoe into the wall of its vault.

The horseshoe was originally placed at the building site at 316 Alvarado Street in 1909. Hundreds of horseshoes were used then as reinforcement for the vault of a bank erected on the property. Several were uncovered during preliminary construction on the new building.

"The history of Monterey is a source of much pride and we at San Diego Federal are pleased to now be a part of this distinctive community," commented Michael G. Rombold, assistant vice president and manager.

Representatives of Monterey city government, the local History and Art Association and the Urban Renewal Agency assisted Rombold in implanting the horseshoe in the vault wall.

An open house celebration will continue at the new office through June 23, with gifts and refreshments for visitors. Office hours during that period are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

Geyer Construction, Inc., of Monterey was general contractor on the building, which totals 10,000 square feet. Redwood and glass are used extensively on the two-story facility, which features drive-in and walk-up windows for added customer convenience.

Mr. & Mrs. Douglas M. Leach (Monterey); Dr. & Mrs. John J. D'Attilio; Mr. & Mrs. Joseph R. Ritenour (Carmel); Mrs. Judy McLaughlin acting Director of the Visiting Nurse Association was also a guest of honor.

Torture and Terrorism vs Patriotism

Tales of torture and brutality brought home from North Vietnam by American prisoners of war should confirm, as nothing else could, that liberty is a fragile and privileged condition of life. It exists only for the strong.

For nearly 200 years, U.S. citizens have been sheltered within a system of government and economic opportunity that have guaranteed a degree of both political and economic liberty such as no people on Earth have ever before enjoyed. Many have questioned whether the sacrifice was worthwhile. Such patriotism has even been held up to scorn.

The tales coming back from North Vietnam illustrate what can happen when men must bow in defenseless humility before the arrogant power of an enemy. It is a safe bet that those returning from Vietnam have no illusions about what could happen if America were to become weak in convictions and in physical strength. If returning American prisoners of war have one message to give that stands above all others, it is simply that America must be kept strong at all costs ... up. That eternal vigilance remains the price of liberty.

Last week I lit out on Bobby Seale and his aspirations to become mayor of Oakland. He lost the election, but to many he won the fight. In a short time he switched his image from Terrorism to Patriotism, but he accomplished this with the help of his "chief of police," Huey Newton - the mind.

Huey makes it clear that the Panthers have not changed their philosophy or objectives. Their objective is still the total overthrow of the American capitalistic system and he

WHITE AND WALKER

Theressia Marie White of Seaside and Roy Walker of Fort Ord were united in marriage on Friday, May 11, at the Highland Inn's Wedding Chapel. Rev. H.H. Lusk, pastor of Bethel Baptist Church of Seaside, officiated the 7 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride, a native of Gary, Indiana and daughter of the late Juluis and Losessia Harris, wore a satin floor length mint green gown, featuring the empire waistline, short sleeves and scooped neckline. The bodice of her gown was covered with an English lace. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a full cap made of same material as the dress and covered in lace. She carried a bouquet of orange roses and green carnations to compliment her dress.

Her only attendant was Mrs. James C. Ross of Seaside, who wore a long pink gown. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ethen Walker of Jacksonville, Texas, chose Bryand Pickett of Fort Ord, to serve as bestman.

Walker, a native of Jacksonville, Texas, graduated from Fred Douglas High School in his hometown. He also attended and received a license from Tyler Barber College in 1964. The groom was drafted into the United States Army in October 1969. He plans to be a career soldier. He has one brother, Troy Walker of San Diego and three sisters, Ruth H. Smith, Ethel J. Garner and Glenda F. Walker, all of Jacksonville.

The bride was reared by an older sister, Mrs. Bessie Jones of Gary, where she received all of her schooling. She graduated from Roosevelt High School, and received her cap from Purdue University, where she completed studies required for licensed vocational nurse. She has another sister, Helen Borwn and two brothers, Lewis Downie and Lawrence Andrews, all of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. She is presently employed at Silas B. Hays Army Hospital, Fort Ord, Ca.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held at the Naval Postgraduate School's Terrace Room in Monterey.

The newlyweds are making their first home in Seaside.

fifty years of fashions

Fifty Golden Years of Fashions was the theme of a fashion show presented by the Victory Temple Trumpeteers on Saturday evening, June 9, at Portuguese Hall in Monterey. Fashions dated from 1923 to the present.

Being inspired by God, and realizing the need for a dedicated group of young people to sing in the church services, Mrs. Vernia White received authority from her pastor, Bishop S.R. Martin, to organize a youth choir. Thus, the Victory Temple Trumpeteers of Seaside, were born approximately 15 years ago.

Mrs. Cornie Jones is president of the Trumpeteers. Mr. John Nash, Sr., is vice president. Pianist and trainer is Mr. Allen Thomas, while David King plays the drums. John Nash, Jr., is the choir director. Present members of the young group are Lloyd Eoff, Virginia Dawson, Adrian Roy, Angela Griffin, Keith Jones, Gail Clewis, Pamela McKissic, Hazel Miller, Debra Burdix, Brenda Dugger, Cathy Johnson, Luther Laing, Ruby Dawson, James Williams, Evelyn Bonnard, Louella Madison, Bruce Rivers, Charlotte Jones, Mark Lee, Dianna Jones, Darnell Cargill, Sheryl Branch, Eric Burney, Diane Seward, Gail Gordon, Cheryl Cargill, Angela Burdix, Jackie Erving, Theresa Penn, Carol Caison, Gary Jones, Regina Burney, Malcolm Anderson, Laurel Rice, Walter Jones, Debra Hunter, Connell and Glenna Burney.

During a well-planned evening of entertainment and refreshments, the Trumpeteers promenaded and sang several selections. Master of Ceremonies was Allen Thomas. Former Trumpeteer Mrs. Kay Berring made the presentations. Narrating from 1923 to 1933 was Mrs. Clara Williams; from 1933 to 1943, Mrs. Rosemary Saffold. The bride of '69 was Miss Agela Birdix; groom, James Williams; flower girls were Stephanie Saffold and Lisa Cargill. Narrating this part of the program was Mrs. Joanne Welch. Narrator for fashions from 1963 to 1972 was Mrs. Betty Eoff. Fashions from 1973 were modeled by Cherie Evans and Toni Hyland. Clothes were from the Way Out House of Pacific Grove and Bucaneer Men's Boutique of Carmel. Other fashions were the courtesy of Cloud Nine of Seaside and Studio Restaurant and Theatre of Carmel.

Music was furnished by Dave Tobiasen and Bard Sherman. A special selection was rendered by Miss Debra Hunter of Seaside.

Expressions were given by Elder, Franklin. Bishop S.R. Martin lead the invocation and gave closing remarks.

Chairman of this successfy affair was Mr. Allen Thomas. He was assisted by Mrs. Mable, Burdix, Mrs. Ross Manesar and Mrs. Corien Jones.

believes this will finally have to be achieved through violence. He has a positive program of controlled terror in the right circumstances. (See Playboy, May 1973).

Huey said: "... our chief ambition is to change the American Government by any means necessary. We feel solidarity with the people of Africa, Asia, and Latin America, and we feel that we're fighting now through armed violence, though on different fronts."

Newton continues, in the same article: "The American ruling circle will not give up without a bitter struggle. But America will not be changed until the world is changed. To say that change will come here just through the ballot box would be a fantasy. We're running for city council offices today. But if you ask if we would be prepared to fight with armed force when the time is right, I would say yes, when the occasion presents itself - and I think it will come, at some point in the future."

With regard to terror, Huey Newton stated that it could serve a positive purpose if disciplined and directed. (Like the terrorist activities whose goal was the release of prisoners.) He further stated that he would even kill provided it advanced his movement or principles.

When asked if he would die for his cause, he quoted Mao-Tse-tung: "Death comes to everyone, but it varies in its significance. To die for the reactionary is as light as a feather. But to die for the revolution is heavier than Mount Tai."

When you think of Bobby Seale and Huey Newton and the Black Panther Party, remember this: their philosophy is communistic, the party is organized in accordance with the principles of democratic centralism. Its inspiration and hero is Mao Tse-tung. Also, it is much more powerful and dangerous today when it is reaching and mobilizing many thousands of people, than it was when it was simply waving the gun.

I used the past two weeks to express my own personal opinions as interpreted solely by me, after reading mountains of literature, magazines, plus the Panther's own newspaper. These expressions in no way reflect the expressions of the Post Newspaper Group, which includes the Seaside Post and News Sentinel. I also state that at no time did I ever discuss these two columns with anyone connected directly or indirectly with these publications.

Well, while we are awaiting someone to turn on the fan, let's just rap.

It takes years, often a lifetime, to reach one's convictions, or at least a workable philosophy to live by.

It takes trial and error, despair, and even bitter rejection as you follow false paths, find yourself at dead ends, and retreat, rest, and wait. Then a new spark is touched in you - by something someone says, an example, a demonstration, another book, and off you go again. But each time a little more secure, less likely to grope and grapple in vain.

What eventually evolves may be a special combination of principles and convictions that has never met in anyone else before, and that can't be transferred to another. Yet if it gives you joy, makes you a better person, and sustains you in times of trouble, that is the test.

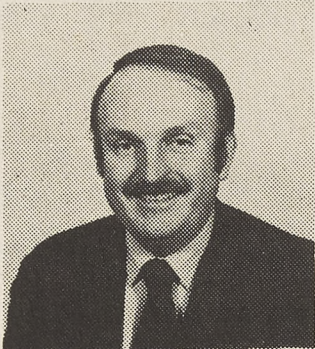

I don't think anyone is truly happy until he has worked out some private pattern, not only for getting along with other people, but for getting along with himself.

I have made my bed. It is comfortable for me. I even paved the road that my vehicle travels on. The road stays open, and anyone who wants to or dares to travel with me is welcome.

Andy sends his regards to all of you. The warm weather kept him in high spirits. Let's hope he remains that way.

I gotta go and burp my cat.

Your Supervisor Reports

Roger Poyner

A new Animal Control program has been suggested by the County's Administrative Staff. Mr. Edwin McCauley, the County Administrative Officer, presented the program yesterday to the Board of Supervisors. The broad objectives of the program are to: (1) protect the community against animal borne diseases; (2) to minimize animal nuisance and danger to citizens; (3) to minimize the unwanted and uncared for animal population in Monterey County; (4) to carry out the Animal Control program in a humane manner at a reasonable cost. To carry out these objectives, Mr. McCauley has recommended that there be an increase in licensing, impound, and boarding costs. The most significant change is a two-level fee for dog licenses. The fee for neutered dogs the fee would be $5 annually and for unneutered dogs the fee would be $10. This difference in licensing fees would encourage dog owners to have their pets neutered. In 1971, seven thousand eight hundred twelve dogs were picked up by the County Animal Control Officers. Only ten percent of these dogs were redeemed by their owners or were adopted by new owners. The rest were "put to sleep." The question which must be faced by dog owners is this: is it more humane to neuter your dog or to have him or her responsible for unwanted puppies which will eventually be killed?

Also recommended is an almost county-wide "leash law." This does not mean that every dog within the area must be on a leash. It does mean that the dog may be picked up unless it is on a leash held by a responsible person or the dog is under the voice control of its owner or his designated representative or the animal is on the property of its owner.

No recommended by the report was the establishment of spay-neuter clinics. The report suggested that the high cost to the county per animal would not justify such a program. Another recommendation was to initiate a public education program which would encourage the public to bring unwanted animals to the Animal Shelters rather than abandoning them and to inform the public that animals can be adopted at the Animal Shelters. Another recommendation that will be in the budget is to make substantial improvements in the Animal Shelter in Marina.

Congratulations to Joanne Ford. It was a pleasure to meet Miss Ford at the airport on Monday and personally congratulate her on her being crowned as Miss Black Teen-Age of California. Also to be congratulated are her parents and the members of the Cotillion League whose outstanding local pageant contributed to the poise and experience which was vital to Miss Ford in her state-wide competition. Good luck from all of us as she competes for the national honor, Miss Black Teen Age America.

Donations Are Needed

The National Council of Negro Women, Inc. is in its final stage of obtaining contributions for the Bethune Memorial fund drive.

The drive is for the purpose of completing a statue of Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune, the founder of NCNW, erected in Lincoln Park, Washington, D.C.

Dr. Bethune, the daughter of slave parents, became a reputable leader and educator. She gave herself to the causes of education, justice, dignity, and equality. She had a special interest in young people. This will be a first monument for a Black American.

NCNW members are asking each and every individual to take advantage of this great opportunity to pay tribute to this dedicated American leader. Donations of $1 or more per name will entitle your name to be placed in the ROLL OF HONOR book which will be displayed in Washington, D.C. Contributions are tax deductible. Please make checks payable to Bethune Memorial Drive - by June 15, 1973 - P.O. box 3081, West Coast Branch, and a Berkeley, CA. Talcott Reviews Jobs For Veterans Benefits

Congressman Burt L. Talcott reviewed benefits for veterans with Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson and other VA leaders at Jobs for Veterans Day on Capitol Hill.

The review included medical, educational and other benefits, as well as ways in which the Veterans Administration and other agencies seek to help veterans find jobs and training opportunities.

Congressman Talcott is a member of the House Appropriations Committee and is the ranking minority member of the subcommittee on HUD, Space, Science and Veterans. This subcommittee is responsible for funding the Veterans Administration.

Congressman Talcott also met with representatives from the Labor Department, the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, the National Alliance of Businessmen and the Department of Defense's "Project Transition" Program.

Voicing support of the efforts by the government to help veterans find jobs on returning to civilian life, Talcott encouraged communities in the 12th District, "to serve as a model and incentive for other communities throughout the Nation by hiring the Vet."

ARMY RECRUITER

Hello everybody.

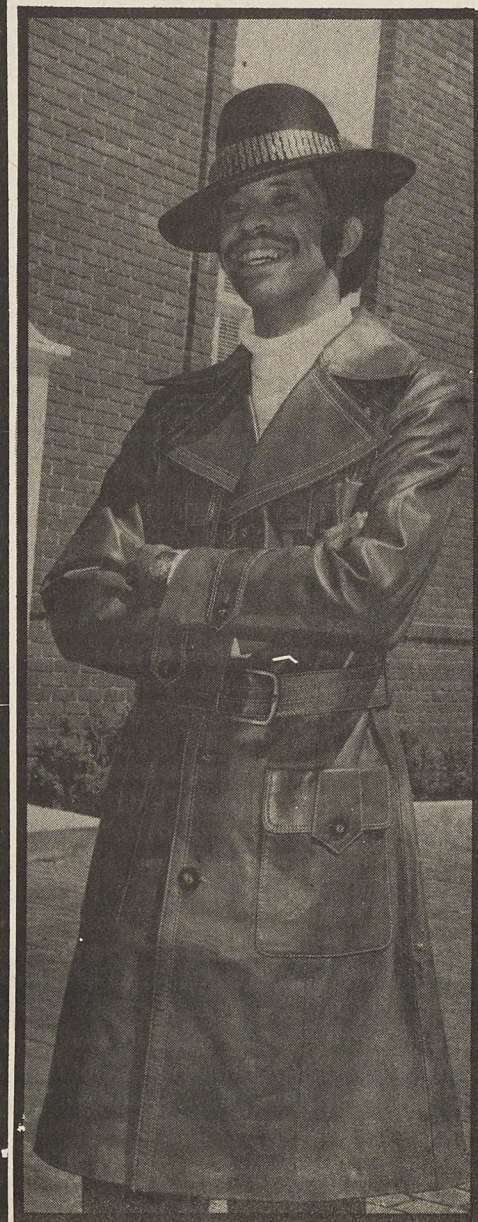

If you're a recent high school graduate, I know you have more on your mind right now than your country. There are decisions to make about what you're going to do next - college, a job, whatever. There are places you'd like to see. People you'd like to meet. Adventures to seek. Other loves to love. There are experiences you'll build your future on. Experiences that will enrich the quality of your life. But did you every stop to think that your country, and our way of life, provide the freedom of choice and opportunity that allows those experiences? Do think about it, because without the interest and ation and energy and love of the people who live in it, a country would not be a country, nor would it survive.

There are many ways to show you care. By working in local government or the Peace Corps. As a teacher, or an environmentalist. Or by just getting a job, getting married, and by paying your taxes. Another way is by serving in TODAY'S ARMY. Consider it for a moment. Contrary to what the word "serving" implies, an enlistment in TODAY'S ARMY doesn't mean three years out of your life with nothing to show for it. While the Army does make demands on your time and energies, it also provides opportunities for personal growth, responsibility, and maturing that could take you years longer to get womehware else.

In TODAY'S ARMY, you can broaden your knowledge of people and places by enlisting for Europe, Hawaii, Panama, Alaska or Korea. You can learn a valuable skill ine one of over 300 excellent job-training school courses. A skill you can turn into a career in TODAY'S ARMY or out. You can continue your formal education in TODAY'S ARMY, mostly at Army expense. We'll pay 75 percent or more of your tuition at a college of university near your post. You can accept the challenge of our Airborne, Ranger, and Special Forces schools, where you'll go through some of the toughest, most demanding physical training done anywhere. You can also live decently in TODAY'S ARMY. Right now, a recruit earns $307.20 a month before deductions, with a raise to $342.30 in about four months. Plus FREE meals, FREE housing, FREE medical and dental care, and 30 days paid vacation each year. All things considered, a 3-year enlistment in TODAY'S ARMY could be the most rewarding way for you to show your country you care.

For more information concerning opportunities and jobs in TODAY'S ARMY, we can be contacted at 431-Webster St., Monterey, or call 372-4742/372-0553.

Graduates From Law School

Carl L. Williams

Carl L. Williams, son of Charlie and Lottie Williams of Seaside, was awarded the degree of Juris Doctor from the University of California Hasting College of the Law in commencement exercises on May 19, 1973.

Carl Williams received his Bachelor of arts degree from Colorado State University. He worked for a brief period with the Seaside Redevelopment Agency before moving to San Francisco.

His wife, Jayne, is a senior at Hasting Law School and will graduate next year. Carl will join a major San Francisco Law firm as an associate in the fall.

K of C's Take Honor

Frank DiMaggio, District Deputy of the Knights of Columbus, reports that District #31—the Monterey Peninsula—has received eight awards at the recent Knights of Columbus Convention in Sacramento.

The eight awards were distributed among four councils on the peninsula. Winners were Pacific Grove Council #5210, 2 awards; Carmel Council #4593, 2 awards; St. Francis Xavier Council #5261 of Seaside, 2 awards. St. Francis Xavier Council received, as one of its awards, the Star Council

Fred Novinger, judge advocate; Al Grimes, Jr. past commander.

The directors are Jim Love, Darrell Bowen, Jim Turner and Toefil Bizilov.

New Art Exhibit

A memorial art exhibit, honoring the late Thomas E. (Tom) Webb, is now on display at Seaside City Hall. Mr. Webb was a very versatile artist, equally talented in etching, oil painting, and graphics for which he won a number of awards. His painting of Christ is hung in the Hays Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, Seaside.

He was a member of the Pacific Grove Art Association, Seaside Art Commission, Pacific Grove Art Center, Monterey Museum of Art, Oakland Museum of Art, the Chrysler Gallery in Norfolk, Virginia, and was listed in the 1971 edition of the Book of Personalities of the West and Midwest. He studied art in Germany, at the Louvre, Paris, France, the Monterey Peninsula College, and the Famous Artists School, Westbrook, Connecticut.

The variety in subject matter and the varied techniques utilized in their execution makes viewing his art a refreshing experience. A sensitive, unassuming man, Mr. Webb willingly shared his knowledge and appreciation of beauty with others, at one time conducting free art classes for the young children of Seaside. His love of children is evidenced by the frequency with which they were the topic of his paintings.

Born in Cleveland, Ohio in 1921, he served his country in World War II and the Korean conflict as a member of the U.S. Army. He was an instructor in the Transportation Division at Fort Ord at the time of his retirement in 1964.

Award, which is the highest award a council can receive.

Mr. DiMaggio was also winner of two awards. His honors included being named "Best District Deputy" for his region which covers all of the Diocese of Monterey.

Luci's Learning Problem: 20 Million Eyes Have It

by James R. Gregg, O.D.

(Dr. Gregg is professor of optometry at the Southern California College of Optometry, Fullerton, and also a noted author and lecturer. He has been a trustee and is a past president of the California Optometric Association.)

More than 10 million children in America have trouble learning because of inadequate visual performance. Contrary to common opinion this does not mean their eyesight is failing. Rather it is a malfunction in the perceptual process, a failure so subtle that many otherwise health-conscious parents are ignorant of its existence.

Luci Johnson Nugent, the younger daughter of former President Johnson, almost dropped out of high school because of impaired vision. Yet, through a concentrated program of visual therapy she made the honor roll in college.

"Detection and treatment of my visual problem literally changed the course of my entire life - from lonely and filled with failure - to exciting and fruitful," Mrs. Nugent says.

Detection is the key word here. A child with visual perceptual difficulty may have perfectly sharp eyesight. For an astute parent, a learning difficulty itself is enough to suggest that the child's vision should be examined.

The 10 million children affected by this problem, President Nixon observed, are no small problem to society. Costs rise tremendously both personally and in dollars since nearly all school dropouts are two or three years behind in reading skills.

For years vision specialists have been correcting common visual errors like astigmatism, farsightedness, and nearsightedness with lenses to produce sharp vision. School achievement improved in some cases, and remained puzzlingly inferior in others. Perplexed visual scientists began to take a closer look at the perceptual process.

Recent studies at the Optometric Center of New York showed that a high percentage of children diagnosed as having "learning disability" had mechanical vision difficulties - eyes that don't coordinate and focus efficiently.

Doctors say this kind of problem can be tackled by vision training. A program of vision therapy over weeks or months - like that of Luci Nugent's - can put most eyes with mechanical problems in order.

The New York study found that many of the slow learners also had visual perceptual-motor difficulties. Their ability to visualize, to make sense out of forms and put the body to work by visual direction, was considerably below average.

Rapid progress is being made in the field and psychologists, educators, and vision specialists working together have produced many successful cases like Luci Nugent's.

Vacation Tips On Vision Care

Breaking or losing your glasses or contact lenses while vacationing away from home can give you headaches in more ways than one. However, there are ways to get quick relief.

According to Dr. James Hicks, President of the Central Coast Optometric Society, a few minutes of planning before you leave home can save you hours and even days of frustration in trying to replace your lenses in a strange city. A vision examination before you embark will help you enjoy your vacation more with good vision.

The easiest solution to replacing lost or broken lenses is to carry a spare pair of glasses or contact lenses. This is particularly important if you will be traveling in other countries or expect to spend most of your vacation time in remote wilderness areas, Dr. Hicks said.

He added that you should carry a copy of your current (Your lens prescription must be shown in your passport.) Your optometrist will give you a written copy of the prescription.

If you plan to spend most of your time in one city, ask your optometrist for names and addresses of optometrists there who could care for your vision needs, if necessary. However, if you are moving from place to place, this may be impractical.

If you need vision care in a strange city and do not know an optometrist there, check the yellow pages of the phone book for the address of the state optometric association or local optometric society to obtain assistance in finding an optometrist's membership in optometric organizations are listed in the phone book and can be used as a guide.

Dr. Hicks advises anyone suffering an eye injury while vacationing to go immediately to the nearest hospital emergency room for treatment. Any delay in caring for an eye injury might result in permanent eye or vision damage.

He also cautioned against rubbing the eye if you should get something "in the eye." Rubbing could cause further irritation or damage. If the foreign particle cannot be flushed out with water, seek help at the nearest hospital emergency room.

When you return home, consult your physician if an eye injury is not completely healed. When it has healed, have your optometrist examine your vision to determine what, if any, damage resulted.

And, Dr. Hicks said, if you had to replace your corrective lenses while on vacation, ask your family optometrist to evaluate the new lenses to be certain they meet your vision needs.
